

Subducted water outlives the slab that carried it

Released above 125 km, it survives cratonic keels and is erased by ridge melting

The slab stays visible in tomography

37 Myr

The chemical signature persists

≥ 400 Myr

Ridge melting removes it

30 Myr

